

Potelco Inc. is a family-owned company that delivers power to the people of the Pacific Northwest and beyond through the construction of power line transmission, distribution systems, natural gas distribution systems, fiber optics, and aerial and light rail underground telecommunications.

Potelco is part of Quanta Services Inc., which was founded in 1997 when four companies, including Potelco, merged together to create a network of highly respected and experienced contracting firms from many disciplines, headquartered across the nation.

Potelco's roots date back more than 49 years. In 1961, Joe Tucci Sr., a native of Puyallup, Wash. and a foreman, worked his way through the ranks and became a co-owner of Potelco. Now Potelco is run by his son Gary Tucci, who grew up working summers at Potelco, running backhoes and raking rocks.

In 1997, Potelco joined forces with three other companies to form Quanta Services, Inc., which is a network of highly respected and experienced contracting firms across the nation, completing jobs that no single firm could tackle.

Potelco:

- 900 employees
 - 700 are skilled workers
 - 100 are clerical
 - 80 are engineers
 - Employees are members of the IBEW local 77, 89 and 483, with Laborers Union and Pipefitters Union 125 and 659
- Based in Sumner, Wash., with 11 other offices, including Spokane and Kittitas
- CEO Gary Tucci

For more information visit www.potelco.net